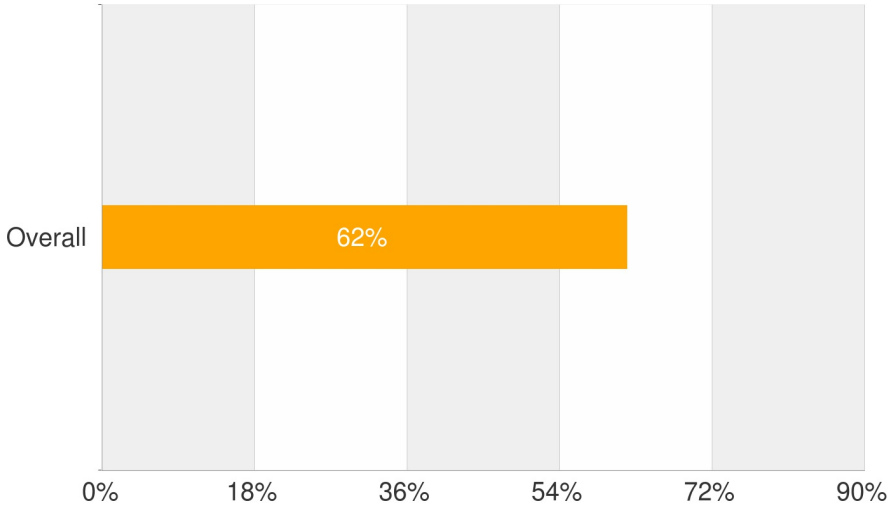
MARKET POTENTIAL

Market Potential is the most significant indicator in your report of the likely commercial success of your track. It combines both your Track Rating and your Passion Rating to provide you with a single aggregate score that predicts how commercially successful your track might be within your market. Your track's Market Potential score is calculated as a percentage between 0% and 85%. For the best odds of chart success, an artist should shoot for a score of 65% or better.

The Market Potential classification indicates where the track is positioned among over 100,00 other tracks.

Chart success assumes a reasonable promotional budget. It should also be noted that the relative success of a single is also directly related to the existing profile of an artist.



TRACK RATING

Your Track Rating is a weighted average of all the ratings your track received from our reviewers. This number reflects how highly reviewers thought of your track, but does not necessarily reflect your track's market potential.

WORD CLOUD & REVIEW SEARCH

This has a interesting beat! I think its very fun and funky! The vocals are well done, and it allows you to actually understand the lyrics! The lyrics are also well-written and the background vocals fits the vibe of this song well! Its also very dance-worthy! Overall, great job!

The background music was a great choice to make the song catchy and engaging. The first minute of the song is very repetitive but after that that song goes off. It is defiantly in the rap category and something I would totally listen to myself and recommend.

The beginning of the beat is good. The artists keeps repeating his words though and it starts to get annoying. The rest of the song he continues to freestyle and his lyrics are fire. I wouldn't put it on my playlist only because its not my style of music but the song is good.

I like the instrumental leading up the vocals! I am not a huge fan of the repetition in the beginning, but when you really get into the first verse, it sounds pretty good. The melody sounds good; it kind of has an old school vibe to it. I think that adding a little bit more bass would make it sound even better.

The way it starts is very intriguing. Rap is enthused enough in voice. Very good beat and good to listen to while laying in bed, by not getting your heart up to much but the right amount. Also props to liking the rappers voice, which is essential to me in liking rap songs.

The intro sounds very cool but i don't think the song will be full of vibes and melody. This type of song is not cool at all. The artist keep repeating the first word he said at the beginning of the track. The production is just okay.

the beat is nice and the production flows together nicely. im kind of sick of listening to Mackavelli though. The lyics are good and the addition of the piano makes the beat even better. I appreciated the Eminem reference. This song would be an uptempo party song.

I don't like the songs hook . His instrumental was litt asf . The artist has a voice for radio hit bangers . His flow matched the beat . Definitely makes you wanna get turned up and dance . This song would be something i would yell when im drunk

Intro instruments are good. Sounds like a song made at home. Doesn't have studio skills. The audio is lower than the beat which is unsettling. The song is repetitive. The beat is good but it overpowers the rapping. I feel the song could go places if it wasn't so repetitive, it makes It boring, makes you lose interest. Also, the music overpowers the rapping makes it too much to listen to.

The start of this song is sweet and it captivates the attention of the listener. I also like the instrumentals as they are well-played. The vocals are sweet and crisp clear. This ensures there is no strain while the listener is listening. The vocals flow smoothly with the instrumentals.

The 808's are really good and the kick hits well and I love it. The opera singing in the background gives it an intense feel and works well. The lyrics are great and aren't too distracting. The beat is quiet enough that it does not cover anything up. I enjoyed listening to the track!

The intro is a bit long and repetitive, the track is nice, the lyrics are repetitive to the point where it is a bit annoying, the mix is a bit heavy on the track, the fade at the end is to long by maybe a second or two. This is not exactly my favorite genre of music, so my review may not be the best.

The tone seems very nice but i think the producer don't really need to put the intro like that because it is very long. I can only hear the singer saying some words since. He's saying i wake up in the good day and i hope it will be good.

The beginning and the middle saying "I Woke Feeling Its a Good Day," started to become monotonous. I'm not really feeling this song. It is a good, but it is not something I can wake up to in the morning for an alarm. The sound is a stereotypical R&B sound. Sounds like something back in the 90's. It doesn't really get me motivated to get up and get going. Props to the artist though.

This is a brilliant track. The track was started early and the artist has the full energy to put in this track and it actually have a very good set. The guy is very talented and i love his rapping skills.I hope he can continue with it.

Dead air at the beginning but when the lyrics hit I really liked it. Its a bit repearitive in the beginning but then it goes to different lyrics. He speeds up and it blows my mind. The beat is great and would sound great in my car

Very dramatic sounding piano. Love the start but then it seems off beat the minute someone sings. This doesn't really rhyme its just repeating the same words. It's quite annoying. The vocalists voice is OK but the song is just thrown together by the sound of it.

I like the beat in the song, it sounds different than other songs and is cool. Its catchy, and even though I'm not a rap fan, I don't mind this song. The lyrics are catchy, and the man rapping does it very well. I enjoy it.

I think that the piano is a different style than most for a rap song. I do like the rap verses better than the chorus. I think his presentation and rap style with the beat is consistent. I do feel like this is well done but not really as much my style of rap. I do think that the lyrics sort of have a point to them.

Brilliant song i definitely do think that the instrumental of this song was superb and yes this song is the right one to hear. I found the lyrics and the beats of this song perfect songs like this are just so wonderful to hear. I would love to hear this song on the radio.

In the beginning, the song starts off as a soft instrumental then worked into a heavy rap that sets the tone that it'll be an upbeat song. The artist's vocals prove that he's setting the tone that'll capture the audience's attention as he goes from low to high in his rap.

This song is immensely off-putting from the brash, obnoxious entrance of the very eerie and anxiety-inducing heaviness of the music coupled with the brash and hostile rapping vocals. It has nothing noteworthy, new, or in any way commendable to be beneficial for anybody to listen to.

25-34	The music intro has some technical tone skills. I like the swag of this music. The rap and the delivery is powerful and awesome. The totality of this music is awesome. The lyrics though is not that meaningful but it was clear and understandable . Over all I will not add it in my playlist. 08-Oct-2020	7
25-34	The initial piano musical instrument is been greatly composed by the music director. The piano gets faded away and followed by the drumbeat. The musician would have been used the more audible piano as his primary musical instrument. The voice of the rappers is not that attractive. 08-Oct-2020	6
25-34	the song is very urban and it has a strong vibe, and the composition is rather contemporary, also the singing is edgy and it has many vibrant lines, the verses are clever and they are well woven together in a steady rhythm, the production is pretty nice and well made 08-Oct-2020	7
25-34	the music is quite gpood, the tune has a beat that is nice and fluent, and the singers have a very edgy voice, the style is pretty likable and it has many good things to it, the rhymes are very cool and creative, the words are clever and the narrative is quite smart 08-Oct-2020	7
25-34	i like the flow which distinguishe that rapper from others, meaningful words , the artist try to describe his day made with a pre recorded track and composed of electronic instruments , Rhythmic beat , so strong and steady beat , i will add this song to my playlist to listen to it again . 09-Oct-2020	7
35-44	The little piano one note type sound that starts in the intro and then continues throughout takes away from this a lot. It's almost the only thing you can focus on. Also, the beginning is a little too repetitive on the 'it's a good day'. 08-Oct-2020	7
35-44	The fast pace took me by surprise and i adore the keyboard notes being played in a high pitch. I find this really stands out in the song and is a good start. The male singers vocals compliment this by having deep vocal ranges but the lyrics are so repetitive that it makes the whole song boring. 08-Oct-2020	4
35-44	The introduction was hopeful and exciting and i was listening closely to the song and the instrumentally cords. I think the sounds and cords were consistent and good but i think you need to make sure there is more variety with the tone of the vocalist, as he risks sounding the same and people getting a little fed up of listening to the same voice over and over. I think the energy was there though, which is good. 08-Oct-2020	6

I liked the dramatic and melancholic atmosphere of this rap song. The female soprano and the lead rapping interacted well together. I must say the rapping got a bit boring in the end as it was almost non-stop. The timing of the male backing voices were excellent. Although the back music varied interestingly, the rapping lacked variety.

I am not sure about this one. The lyrics were quite positive and simple enough to be able to follow. The artist performed them well and I could easily understand most of it, which is refreshing for the genre. The beat was cool and I did like the tempo and the lyrics had a certain rhythm to them that fit in well with it. The underlying music was simplistic though, and didn't do much to contribute to the song, although the backup singers did. They added a very original and creative aspect to the music that I've not heard before. I think the arrangement is well done, but perhaps could go a bit further to make the song distinctive. I liked the singer's voice as well, if he slowed down slightly we could really enjoy how nice and deep it is.

The chorus is really good but I'm not sure what the rest of the lyrics are. The music has a good beat and steady tone and changes in flow. The voice sounds pretty good. It should do pretty well on the market and with people.

The beat doesn't go with the lyrics. The beat seems over complex and too dreary for the lyrics. The lyrics are good and the artist has good flow and voice. I feel he needs to put the same lyrics to another beat. I would add this to my playlist if it had a different beat.

the piano does give a sense of the dramatic to the start of this track, and sets a fair pace which is then matched by the drum track, which is worked into the track well enough. the issue is the vocals, the backing vocals, the drums and keyboards combined all are fighting for the same space in the track, the energetic delivery by the lead is enjoyable but the music takes away from this, in particular in places such as a 2 minutes in. This is not bad, good lyrics, good vocals just a bit more mixing needed.

o love the dramtic vocal harmonics in the background of this song. the vocals are crystal clear and sit well on top of the rest of the backing track. the instruments are subtle and dont over croud in the mix, theres a nice balance to the eq. this song makes tou feel like you can run through walls it would be ideal for a gym playlist, i would add it to mine.

There's almost a maestro like style to the intro that stands out with its feeling of urgency and action. Vocals are gutsy and raw and really put out the narrative with style. Lyrics have a catchy chorus but feel it becomes too repetitive and begins to lose appeal. Love the poetry and the rhythm of the verses and narrative really involves the listener. Musical accompaniment has a smooth subtle beat that seems to sweep along majestically. Like the feeling of drama in the melodies and some great touches that sound like opera music.

35-44	A hip hop score and track. The rap vocalist fronting the song has a competent tone, phrasing and expressiveness. There is a fair lilt and swing to his verses and rapping. They culminate in respectable choruses. The wailing in the background is a touch strident. 08-Oct-2020	7
35-44	The megaphone style effect on the intermittent vocal works well. The rapping is very good. The track moves along well. The sound is somewhat thin and harsh. It seems to take forever to get back to the chorus though. The lyrics have some good bite to them. 08-Oct-2020	7

Weightings

The better a Reviewer is at judging the broader consensus rating of the track, the higher weighting their opinion receives. When calculating the Overall Market Potential, each Reviewer's track rating is weighted in accordance with their influence. For example a track rating from a highly respected Reviewer, who has proven to be accurate at identifying strong or weak tracks in that genre, can carry a much heavier influence than a track rating from a newer Reviewer.

Reviewers/Sample Group

This is the group of music consumers who have listened to the track online and left their track rating and written review. They are sourced from our sister site, Slicethepie and they do not know they are conducting market research when they hear the track, which helps to achieve honest and objective responses. The sample group is selected at random and screened by their age, gender, location and genre preferences. A diverse sample group of reviewers is required to form a "smart crowd" which ensures an accurate Market Potential. See "Wisdom of Crowds" below.

Wisdom of Crowds

Wisdom of Crowds is a proven methodology that large groups of ordinary people organised under the right conditions (a "smart crowd"), outperform small groups of experts in making decisions and predictions. It is not new. It is the science behind Google and decision-making in some of the largest companies in the world. It has been proven time and again that collective wisdom consistently surpasses the experts. It also means that SoundOut can guarantee a high level of accuracy with results.

The 4 conditions required to form a "smart crowd" that delivers an accurate result are:

1. Diversity of opinion: A sample group of reviewers with many different points of view makes better decisions than one where everyone has the same information.
2. Independence: The reviewers' opinions are not influenced by others.
3. Decentralization: Answers are given by individual reviewers based on their own local and specific knowledge rather than by a central person.
4. Aggregation: There is a way of accurately measuring the sample group's collective answer.
